

Strike Halted At Cape

3,200 Workers Back On Job Early Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A federal court order, issued just before midnight Tuesday, has halted union picketing which had stopped $213-million worth of construction on Cape Kennedy and the adjacent Merritt Island moonport.

U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Young issued a temporary restraining order requested by the National Labor Relations Board. The ruling directed the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, AFL-CIO to withdraw picket lines.

The action opened the way for 3,200 construction workers who had honored the lines to return to work.

Judge Young declared the restraining order effective until 5 p.m. Thursday. He set another hearing for NLRB and union attorneys for 2 p.m. that day, at which time he indicated he could extend the order.

The Telegraphers, one of 11 non-operating unions which struck the Florida East Coast Railway 13 months ago, established picket lines here Monday to protest movement of one of the line's freight trains onto new government-owned track on Merritt Island. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is building facilities on the island to launch American astronauts to the moon.

Prayer Day Observance Set Friday

The local World Day of Prayer service will be held in Sedalia at the First Methodist Church, Fourth and Osage, Friday, at 1:45 p.m. A nursery will be provided for small children.

Those attending the service are to be seated before 1:45 p.m., for a period of 15 minutes for silent meditation and prayer, in order to keep the silence unbroken before the service actually begins at 2 p.m.

The theme of the service, "Let Us Pray," will be developed through hymns, scripture, six meditations, prayers of intercession and a rededication to the service of others.

Participants in the service will be: Mrs. Hugh Jones, organist; invocation, Mrs. Ernest Liebel; scripture, Mrs. D. F. Richards; meaning of the day, Mrs. T. E. The committee which planned for this observance is: Mrs. Ernest Liebel, Chairman, Mrs. H. J. Staubli, Mrs. D. F. Richards, Mrs. Roy Stribling, Mrs. M. O. Stevens, Mrs. Raymond Banks, Mrs. W. J. Herrington, Mrs. T. E. Gasperson is president of the local council of United Church Women.

Lincoln Message Auctioned For Sum of $16,000

NEW YORK (AP)—President Abraham Lincoln's message of congratulations to the defeated Union Army of the Potomac in the battle of Fredericksburg, Va., was auctioned Tuesday for $16,000.

The Carnegie Book Shop of Manhattan purchased the document, the only known version written in Lincoln's hand. It was auctioned by the Parke-Bernet Galleries.

Auto Crash Fatal To Sedalia Youth

The fourth traffic fatality for Pettis County occurred about 2:50 o'clock Wednesday morning, six-tenths of a mile north of U. S. Highway 50 on State Route 135. Dead is Michael Doyle Wingfield, 16, 308 West Broadway, driver of the automobile. Only one vehicle was involved in the accident.

Wingfield, son of Mrs. Willa Jean Wingfield, 308 West Broadway, was the driver of the 1955 Ford sedan which left the pavement and struck a culvert over a ravine containing about four feet of water. Four other youths were also in the car but none was apparently injured seriously.

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, who examined the body said he believed the youth was knocked unconscious and drowned in the muddy water. He had no apparent signs of injuries which might have caused his death. The youth was identified at the scene by William Arthur Piers, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Piers, 1412 South Osage.

Piers returned to the scene of the accident with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Schutte, of 401 Dal-Whi-Mo court after he had been taken to his sister's home by other youths with whom he had been riding and who were at the scene at the time of the accident. "I didn't want to get in any trouble, but I was dripping wet and wanted to get my clothes changed and tell my brother-in-law," young Piers said.

Piers, according to Trooper Richard Joos of the State Highway Patrol, was in a "state of confusion" when questioned at the police station later in the morning. Piers first said he was riding in a second car which stopped at the scene, and never admitted being in the car with Wingfield.

Council Session Thursday Not 'Official' Meet

Mayor L. L. Studer said Wednesday morning that the session scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday in his office to discuss Civil Defense is not a meeting of record for the City Council.

The mayor said the meeting was arranged so that Kraus could go over the Civil Defense agency's revised budget presented at the council's Feb. 3 meeting. No decision as to the city's future with Civil Defense could be made at the meeting, Studer pointed out.

Studer said that since Kraus announced the meeting was to be held several parties interested in Civil Defense had called the mayor's office indicating they wished to attend.

The meeting will be open to the press, Studer said.

Kraus, in announcing Tuesday that he had been requested to attend the meeting, labeled it a "special council session."

Route 2, Sedalia, told the Trooper that Piers was riding in the Wingfield car with him in the back seat along with Larry Nelson, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond N. Nelson. In the front seat with Wingfield was Francis Lee Owens, 19, son of Mrs. Mildred Green, 625 West Sixth, and Orville W. Owens, Kansas City.

He said he had gotten off work at Garst's Drive-In about midnight and joined the other boys and rode around. He said just before they started to take a boy home who lives in Clifton City, they divided up some going with Wingfield, and others

School Tax Levy Voted By Board

The annual school tax levy and the purchase of property were the highlights of the regular meeting of the Sedalia Board of Education Tuesday night.

An over-all tax levy of $2.82 was approved by the board for the 1964-1965 school year, which is the same rate as last year and which was levied by the board at the April meeting, and 45 cents to be levied by the board at the April meeting for the sinking and interest funds. These levies

Johnson Gives Himself Up At Police Station

A man who departed from Police Court Monday morning without paying a $65 fine was jailed Wednesday morning by police.

Charles (Chuck) Johnson, 33, 1707 South Vermont, surrendered himself at the police station about 9 a.m. Judge U. L. Howerton had issued a pickup order for Johnson Tuesday.

Johnson pleaded guilty to charges of being intoxicated in public, disturbing the peace, resisting arrest and assaulting an officer in court Monday, but left the courtroom and could not be located after the court session ended.

The fine, according to Judge Howerton, is to be served out at the rate of $2 per day. Johnson could serve a term of 32 days if he does not pay the balance. A 30-day jail sentence suspended on condition that he seek medical care at a hospital also hangs over his head if he is released and does not obtain such care.

Police said Johnson is to be taken to a Sedalia doctor for further examination on Friday. When admitted to the city jail Johnson's head was heavily bandaged.

The Weather

The temperature Wednesday was 37 at 7 a. m. and 35 at noon. Low Tuesday night was 35, with .24 inches of moisture.

The temperature one year ago today was high 34; low 10; two years ago, high 75; low 37; three years ago, high 74; low 39.

Lake of Ozark stage: 51.5 feet; 8.5 below full reservoir; no change.

Kaysinger Funds Asked By Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Missouri's senators have asked President Johnson to make a supplementary budget request for funds to begin construction of Kaysinger Dam in Missouri in the fiscal year beginning next July.

In a joint letter to the President made public today, Sens. Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long said:

"It would appear more clear, every day, that the technical and industrial future of the United States is being concentrated in a relatively few states: in the south and on the various coasts of the country.

"With this in mind, we are convinced that unless the Middle West, specifically our own state of Missouri, develops its water resources, it cannot hope to meet its share of the desired national growth."

Their letter said failure to provide in the fiscal 1965 budget for land acquisition, construction and other purposes would interrupt "orderly progress of the over-all project" at Kaysinger for the first time in eight years.

The Missouri Senators also announced the White House has responded in letters from Lawrence F. O'Brien, special assistant to the President, who wrote: "The President is aware of the great interest in this project in Missouri. We have been in touch with Deputy Director Elmer Staats of the Bureau of the Budget. You may be sure that consideration will be given to your recommendation that a supplementary request for construction funds be sent to the Congress."

Police Radio Frequency Is On New Setting

Sedalia police were subjected to some inconvenience Wednesday as a frequency change was begun in the department's short-wave radio system.

Previously the Police and Fire Departments have maintained their radio operations on the same public safety frequency. New Federal Communications Commission regulations, however, no longer allow both departments to operate on such a frequency and the two are to be converted to a local government frequency in order that they may remain together.

Keeping both departments on the same radio frequency means a conversion savings for the city.

Carl Goist of Goist's Radio Company here is making the changeover. He began work Wednesday morning on the police base station and when this is complete will switch over police patrol cars. Fire department units will be next in line for conversion.

The change puts the departments on a lower frequency with a narrower band, but does not affect transmission power.

Cyprus Peace Force Offer to Makarios

Fighting Breaks Out As Proposal Is Made

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Undersecretary of State George Ball and British envoy Cyril Pickard called on President Makarios today to present the latest U.S.-British plan to land an international peace keeping force on Cyprus.

Ball hurried to the meeting shortly after he arrived from Turkey on his flying peace mission.

Accident Record Gets Worse

County Records Three Fatalities In First Month

Pettis County's accident statistics took a turn for the worse in January, 1964, as the county counted three traffic deaths. Only one death was recorded in the corresponding month in 1963.

Although the total number of accidents increased by only one, injuries in those accidents more than doubled in comparison to the previous year. Property damage also showed a substantial increase.

According to a report issued recently by Capt. G. W. Pate, a total of 22 persons were killed in highway accidents in the first month of 1964 in the 13 midwestern counties comprising the Troop A area, with headquarters in Lee's Summit. In comparison, only seven persons were killed in January, 1963, making a ratio of over three deaths to one.

Injuries, property damage and total accidents also showed increases, each in proportion to the other.

Also included in the report was a summary of driver license statistics for January, 1964. The summary showed that 283 persons were given drivers tests for licenses in Pettis County in January, 1964. Of those tested, 212 passed and 71 failed. A total of 6,590 persons were examined in the Troop A area and 4,417 passed their examinations.

Following is a summary of accident statistics for those counties from the Troop A area in the Democrat-Capitol trade area:

Benton County — one death, eight injured; $12,690 property damage; 21 accidents.
Henry County — no deaths;

Filing For Primary Is Now History

The filing time for the Sedalia city primary election closed at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, long on primary contests on the Democratic ticket, but not a contest on the Republican side. The Republican party failed to fill out their own ticket and by virtue of just filing, John C. McCloskey succeeds himself as the city attorney.

McCloskey was the only attorney to file on the Democratic ticket and there was none on the Republican ticket. Thus he is virtually elected as soon as the first primary vote is cast for him. It is most unlikely a write-in candidate could win on the Republican side.

The Republican party encouraged and pushed for the primary election, at which time indications were made there would be primary contests on that side, but as the closing time arrived, their only candidates are for councilmen in each ward, one for city collector, one for city treasurer, and one for city assessor.

On the Democratic side of the ballot there are primary contests in the third and fourth wards, a two-way battle for the nomination for treasurer, and a West Third, is the Democratic candidate for city collector to succeed her husband who held the office for the past term and the Republican candidate is Harry B. Young, Sr., 1000 West Fourth.

For city assessor, John M. Blue, 1610 West Fourth, is the Democratic candidate and J. W. Gerds, 2101 South Marvin, the Republican candidate.

The two-way political battle for the Democratic nomination

The conference took place as fighting between Greek and Turkish communities flared anew in the south coastal city of Limassol, 38 miles southwest of Nicosia. At least one Greek Cypriot policeman was killed, a palace spokesman said.

A spokesman for the Greek Cypriot president said the talks will decide whether Makarios will take the case to the United Nations. If they are considered unsatisfactory, a special Greek Cypriot delegation probably will be sent to U.N. headquarters in New York later this week.

Shortly before Ball's jet touched down, a new outbreak of fighting was reported between Greek and Turkish factions at Limassol, 38 miles southwest of Nicosia.

Ball told newsmen he hoped to have full discussions with Makarios and Vice President Fazil Kitchuk, a Turkish Cypriot.

He refused to comment on a newsmen's query as to when American troops would land on Cyprus as part of a U.S.-British plan for a peace-making force.

There were no signs of anti-American demonstrations in Nicosia and Greek Cypriot officials insisted they expected none.

On Numerous Subjects

Johnson Rambles Through Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—For 25 minutes and 3,500 chosen words, President Johnson held forth on such a sweep of subjects as bellyachers and bathrooms, peace and poverty.

Since he was talking to field officers of the Internal Revenue Service, he also mentioned taxpayers and tax collectors. But that was just a starting point for a ramble through domestic and foreign fields.

Along the way there were cracks at critics of his handling of foreign policy, and assurances that "we are a much beloved people throughout the world"—that we are respected and appreciated "regardless of what some of the bellyachers say."

The President held forth in the East Room of the White House Tuesday on home, election day, wife, mother, the Golden Rule (three times), national defense, the budget, waste, poverty, civil rights, turning out lights, public service and his regard for his Treasury secretary.

Also: Cuba, Laos, Vienna, Soviet Premier Khrushchev, Red China, Panama, the U.S. plane shot down over East Germany, Viet Nam, changes in 50 of the world's 113 governments, Dwight D. Eisenhower, foreign aid, disarmament—

And a conclusion that: "We can't be satisfied with yesterday. Tomorrow is going to be a better world for all of our people."

The President started out using notes typed on cards, ran out of those, then kept going in chatty, off-hand fashion.

Some things he said: "Taxpayers are people." Taxes must be collected efficiently, courteously and honestly. "Every man is king in the ballot box."

"It took us 40 days and nights to pare and prune" the budget. "My mother always had some pin money hid under the pillow."

Put yourselves in the place of the other fellow in considering poverty — and discrimination. "One of the great ladies that I have known is kind of chief of staff of our house. She has been with us 20 years. She is a college graduate, but when she comes from Texas to Washington she never knows where she

Defense Accuses Sinatra

Say He Helped Stage Kidnap For Publicity

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frank Sinatra Jr. may get his day in court to answer defense accusations that he helped stage his own kidnapping so he "could make the girls swoon as his papa once did."

The 19-year-old singer's name was on a list of potential witnesses handed defense attorneys by the government. Others on the list included Milton Rudin, lawyer for the elder Sinatra, and Mrs. Nancy Sinatra, divorced wife of the famed star.

A number of employees of Harrah's Club at Lake Tahoe, Nev., also are on the list, along with trumpeter John Foss and Tino Barzi, manager of the revamped Tommy Dorsey band.

Foss was found bound and gagged when two gunmen invaded the Lake Tahoe motel room and took Sinatra Jr. away last Dec. 8. Some 54 hours later, he was released unharmed after his father had paid $240,000 in small bills following a series of phone calls.

Barry Keenan, 23, Joseph Amster, 23, and John Irwin, 42, are charged in U.S. District Court with the kidnaping of young Sinatra.

Their lawyers, in opening statements, all said that the evidence would show no kidnaping but instead a publicity hoax.

can get a cup of coffee. She never knows when she can go to a bathroom."

The White House light bill is down from $5,000 to $3,000 a month. "You go back home and see how much electricity you can save in the building in which you work."

"We have problems in the world" but "I have seen times when the skies were grayer."

"We cannot expect to mash a button and have our wishes carried out all over this globe."

New Missouri Hiway Map Off Press

The State Highway Department has announced Missouri's official 1964 state highway map will be ready for distribution to highway users Thursday.

The completely all new '64 map can be obtained, free of charge, at the Department's main office in Jefferson City, any of the ten district offices throughout the state, the urban office at Richmond Heights and at many other places.

It was necessary to remake the map, and in the interest of uniformity nationwide, many changes were made. It is thought the new map is more legible, attractive and serviceable for highway users.

On the front side is an index to Missouri cities and villages for quick location along with their population. The face of the map also carries a message to highway users from Gov. John M. Dalton. An artist's conception of the Missouri Pavilion at the New York World's Fair. A panel giving information on the locations of State Highway Department and State Highway Patrol offices and officials. A safety panel "in case of accident" is included.

On the reverse side of the new map is a convenient mile-age chart showing distances between some Missouri cities. There are also individual maps showing marked highway routes in and through 47 Missouri cities.

Ann Landers

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Your recent advice to "sitting duck"—that standing passengers on a bus should not ask seated passengers to hold their parcels—did not measure up to your usual standards of compassion.

I used to be a stenographer in a law firm where it was customary for the office staff to celebrate with the birthday girl. The treat they all liked best was potato chips and a cheese dip.

The day it was my turn to bring the cheese dip I prepared the treat in a large glass bowl which weighed about 10 pounds. I got on the bus carrying the bowl of cheese dip wrapped in a tablecloth.

The bus was crowded and I didn't get a seat. I will never forget the agony of trying to hold the bowl of cheese dip with one hand and hang on to the bus pole with the other. After 15 minutes my arms felt as if they were about to fall off. I was tempted to drop the bowl on the head of the man who was seated under my nose.

Since that day whenever I get a seat on the bus and I see a standing passenger struggling with a parcel I offer to hold it. No doubt "Sitting Duck" will do the same if the shoe ever gets on the other foot.—STANDING DUCK.

Dear Ducky: The advice holds. A standing passenger should NOT ask a seated passenger to hold a parcel, lunch, purse, child or a bowl of cheese dip. Any seated passenger who would not offer to help without being asked is such a clod he would undoubtedly say no anyway.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently my husband and I moved to a new city. We do not know a soul in this town. After having had a large number of friends in the city we used to live in, we feel very much alone.

My husband works in an organization which employs about thirty people. He says the men at work are all pleasant but not one of them has expressed any interest in getting together socially.

I am a congenial person and would not be uncomfortable about phoning some of the wives and inviting them over. Is this proper? Or should we wait for one of them to make the first move?—L.O. OF L.A.

Dear L.O.: It is not proper for the wife of a new man to phone the wife of an "old timer" in an attempt to get acquainted.

Join a church auxiliary, League of Women Voters, or a service group. Check to see if your city has a Newcomer's Club. (They are great!)

Before long you will surely meet women with whom you are compatible. You can then invite them to your home for an evening—with their husbands.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl and a devoted reader. I've wanted to write to you many times and can put it off no longer. I must tell you what you have done for me.

The letter from the tall girl who had fallen for the short guy did it. I had been fighting a heavy crush for months because the young man (I'll call him Rob) is four inches shorter than I am. When I saw your sincere and witty advice to the tall girl I knew it was meant for me, too.

Since I read that column my embarrassment about Rob's height has disappeared into thin air. You said all the things I was feeling, but couldn't get through my thick skull.

Thank you, Ann Landers. From now on I'll hold my head high and be proud to be seen with my wonderful guy.—5'10" IN STOCKING FEET.

Dear Stocking Feet: The many warm letters from tall gals AND JUMPING JANUARY—Space history for 1964 started with a bang—four of them, to be exact, and all within 10 days. • First, on January 21, was the launching of Relay II, a 184-pound switchboard which will relay radio and television signals between North and South America, Europe and Asia. It may allow Americans to watch the 1964 Olympics "live" from Japan. • Another communications satellite, Echo II, went into orbit on the 25th. Echo II is 135 feet in diameter, 35 feet larger than famed Echo I. Unlike Relay, it is a "passive" satellite; signals will merely be bounced off its aluminum-coated plastic skin. • On the 29th, the U.S. finally took the lead in the weight-lifting department with the orbiting of the second stage of the giant Saturn I booster. The 80-foot-long 38,000-pound second stage is by far the heaviest object ever launched. It was a step forward in the Gemini program, in which the Saturn system will carry two astronauts into earth orbit for periods of two weeks or more. • Lastly, on the next day, a Ranger spacecraft was shot toward the moon to take television pictures of the moon's surface and flash them back to earth.

Heart Fund Grants At $80,584

Grants-in-aid and Fellowships totaling $80,584 will be provided by the Missouri and St. Louis Heart Association Joint Research Committee to medical schools over the state for study of heart and blood vessel disease, according to Dr. Roland P. Ladenson, Columbia, chairman of the committee, representing the Missouri Heart Association. Dr. Theodore Cooper of St. Louis is vice-chairman of the committee, representing the St. Louis Heart Association.

This is the first year state and local associations have had a joint research program. This joint committee was formed in order to provide a more effective and economical means or mechanism for reviewing state-wide research applications in the area of cardiovascular disease.

Of the $80,584 research support for the 1964-65 fiscal year, $37,068.64 was contributed directly by the Missouri Heart Association, its Kansas City Chapter, and Heart Councils of the Missouri Heart Association. These councils participating directly by the Missouri Heart are as follows:

Greene County, Jasper County, Audrain County, Cooper County, Howard County, Cape Girardeau County, Dunklin County, Jefferson County, Madison County, Pettis County, Mississippi County, Stoddard County, Franklin County, Washington County, Harrison County, Marion County, Pike County, Randolph County, St. Charles County, and the St. Joseph Heart Council.

Interest of Justice Swings Wrong Way

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Leonard J. Trujillo went to court Tuesday to ask that his second forgery conviction be "set aside in the interest of justice." Trujillo, 21, told Judge Edward J. Keating that a sentence of two to six years was imposed by the judge despite lack of certain evidence. Keating reviewed the case. "You want justice done," he told Trujillo, "so I'm going to accommodate you." He made the sentence three to eight years.

Sedalian Still Tends Chores at 90

By HAZEL LANG
The car turned off of Marshall Avenue on to the narrow unpaved street which is 14th and stopped at the old fashioned white house where the road stopped, too. The garden plot at the west side looked freshly plowed, but it may have been still a bit moist. This has been the home of Mrs. Fred Knehan for the past 57 years.

The door opened as the car drove up and Mrs. Knehan smiled a welcome. She didn't look like she had recently celebrated her 90th birthday — just the latter part of January. Women in their sixties many times look as old. Perhaps it is because she is very straight that she looked tall, and her white hair, still silver at the ends, was softly and neatly combed with a loose roll on top.

The house looked the way one would expect it to look with a mixture of furniture, old things such as an old commode and combination bookcase and writing desk, with newer things purchased through the years up to a television set. It was immaculate and cozy with such a welcome that it is no wonder she has many guests.

Mrs. Knehan was born in Cole Camp, and came to Sedalia when she was 14 years old to work in homes as many of the German girls from there did.

It was when Henry Maas, who had come from Germany to Sedalia and prospered, then went back there on a visit that he brought young Fred Knehan, a relative, back to this country and to Sedalia. It was at the Maas home that Maggie met Fred and the romance began.

Fred lived in the east part of town, while Maggie worked in the west part and he was forever missing that last mule car, which was the transportation in those days, and was having to walk home.

He finally took care of that little situation, however, he married her. That was 71 years ago, March 3, 1892. The marriage took place in a two story house in the 1800 block on East 16th, that no longer is there.

At first they lived on a farm near Dresden, and then on the George Allcorn farm, and then they came to Sedalia. Times were hard, and out at their home where she still lives he had a dairy. Both of them milked the cows, and he had a retail route where he would go around to his customers with the milk in big five or ten gallon cans. The housewives would be ready for him with pans to put the milk in. It was five cents a quart. Later they had the milk in bottles and the bottles were put in coolers. She still has some coolers in the basement.

They had four children, one son, Walter Knehan, who lives at 1904 South Stewart, Mabel Bruns and Pauline Chester, both of Kansas City, Kan., and Edna Samuelson, Kansas City, Mo. There are four grandchildren and eight great grandchildren, she said.

In 1943 Mr. and Mrs. Knehan celebrated their golden wedding and there was a big crowd there for dinner. She was all dressed up for the occasion, but even so, the cows had to be milked and she went out and helped milk them.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Knehan died.

Outside of arthritis, of which she shows no signs except for the black wool hose that she called attention to, she is in perfect health. The last time some of her family insisted she go for a checkup, the doctor told her she was in the best condition of anybody that had been in his office that day. Her eyes are wonderful, and though she wears glasses she takes them off to read. Her hearing is good, too.

Her children, like all children, try to tell her what to do, but she doesn't pay much attention. When Fred comes and can't get in because she has the door locked he says: "Why do you keep the door locked—nobody's going to steal you?" But, to her, that is just good common sense—and indeed, it is good common sense.

The telephone is one of her greatest pleasures because many of her friends call her, in fact the telephone rang three times during the afternoon.

She has many callers and there must always be a lunch of some kind. She had made some coffee cakes that morning, and on the table, too, were the big round old fashioned sugar cookies she had made.

Of course, her daughters take such things as blankets, spreads and such things to Kansas City and launder them for her, but she does her own washing and ironing of other things. She does her washing on a wash board—not because she has to, but because she wants to. She used to have a washing machine but she didn't care too much for it. Those children of hers get her more useless things—now that new sweeper in the corner they got for her birthday. She just didn't need it or want it. She used to have a sweeper but she didn't like it—she would much rather do her cleaning with her bristle brush sweeper she can push easily and does a wonderful job of picking up the dirt. She scrubs and patches whatever needs patching.

All of her sheets, pillow cases, towels, everything must be ironed, and she had just put away the towels she had ironed.

She bakes her own bread and when she feels she would like a pie she makes herself one. She makes coffee cake and rolls and loves to give them to people — the neighbors, who are good to her, the friends who drop in—that is the fun of living, doing for other people and sharing what you have.

One of her favorite pastimes is playing cards, pitch or rummy.

In the summer she has a flower garden that takes up an entire lot, and at night when the moon lights the garden the row of bright red four o'clocks are just beautiful, she said. In the garden, too, are balsam, zinnias, gladiolias, dahlias, lilies, cannas—and many other colorful flowers. On the other side of the house are poppies.

Walter has a little tractor and he keeps telling her he will cultivate her flowers, but every time he brings the tractor over she has planted another row of flowers and he doesn't have room enough to go between the rows.

In addition to her flower garden she has a vegetable garden, too, and last year some of her tomatoes weighed two pounds. There are beans, too, green beans and wax beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers, carrots and just everything. Of course, she couldn't eat all those vegetables and there isn't anything to do but give part of them away.

She cans a great deal of what she grows, too, and makes bread and butter pickles, chow chow, dill pickles, all kinds of pickles, and her cellar is filled with an assortment of glass jars of canned food, but she finds a lot of pleasure in giving that away, too.

Mrs. Knehan loves the outdoors, and on sunny days it is a little hard to get her on the telephone, she is out just wandering around, if it is winter. Of course, if it is spring or summer, she is working in the garden—and in the afternoon doing a bit of work getting ready for winter.

Still a young woman at 90 years of age, Mrs. Knehan knows the secret of living, that is why she is happy, she is doing what she wants to do, continually thinking of others, doing for others, listening to others, and so the world around her little home is big and her friends are many.

Curbstone Comments Of Pavement Plato

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

One of the important things in living is to pick the right kind of enemies. Few people take the trouble.

Personal enmity, as a matter of fact, has fallen upon evil times in our day, and has become almost as flabby as international amity.

The great feuds of the American past largely have degenerated into political name-calling or waspish grudges in office and factory life. We retain the ability to dislike, but seem to have lost the strength to hate.

Women of Moose Note Anniversary

The Women of the Moose celebrated their 13th anniversary on Sunday, Feb. 9, at the Moose Home, with a ham dinner served at 5 p.m. to approximately 300 members and guests. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reed, the officers of the Moose Lodge and their families.

General chairmen were Sadie Luther and Alice McMillan, with Karen Marcum and Gertrude Head as chairman of the entertainment committee. Phyllis Williams was in charge of the dinner which Sadie Luther, Karen Marcum, Gertrude Head and Maria Thomas helped prepare. Linda Thomas, Dorothy, Carol and Nancy Twenter assisted in serving and Rosie Robb was in charge of the decorations with tables decorated representing the 13 years.

The entertainment consisted of a program presented by Mrs. Shepard at the organ, Larry Riley playing the drums and singing, Rosemary Karle singing, Ricky Marcum playing the accordion and Sadie Luther who played the piano and sang. The Comets played for a dance in the evening.

Are Expecting Baby

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Academy Award winner Ed Begley, 62, and his wife of two months, the former Helen Jordan, 38, announced Tuesday that they are expecting a baby next fall.

Their marriage Dec. 12 was the second for her and the third for him. They live in the San Fernando Valley with five children, two of his and three of hers.

Yet enmity, while not as strong a force in life as love, still is an energizing factor we can't afford to overlook. It adds a perspective to the landscape, and helps round out our mortal being. It saves us from the penalty of too much milkop togetherness—boredom.

As most of our friendships are made accidentally or by change, so are most of our enmities. Proximity influences us chiefly. We tend to take as enemies the fellow who beats us out for a place on the football team, he who weds the girl we thought we couldn't live without, or one who gets the job we sought.

Such bases for enmity are puerile and ephemeral. After all, who cares about football after schooldays are gone? The job your so-called enemy won may well become a dead end, too, and the girl he took from you may turn into a frowzy fishwife.

You can learn more from a good enemy than from a bad friend. That is why the selection of proper enemies is so important, and should never be haphazard.

It is an error, for example, to pick as an enemy anyone who is a bum, a weakling or who suffers from a striking defect of character that will ruin him early. Enmities of this kind tend to evaporate in pity.

Enemies should test your mettle, and compel you to improve yourself in order to compete with or excel them.

Just as old friends are best, so are old enemies. You should make them while young so you can enjoy them longer.

The danger, of course, in having an enemy over a long period of years is that you get to know him pretty well, and when you come to understand anyone you usually wind up developing a fondness for him.

Thus you run the risk of discovering, that in a strange and mystic way, your lifelong enemy has become almost as necessary to you as your nearest friend. If anything should happen to him, his loss would leave an empty space in your life, a space very hard to fill.

But he has been of deep service to you. He has added zest to your living, spurred you on to achieve your own goals.

And what more can you ask of a good enemy than that he help make a better man of you? Has your best friend done more?

Hughesville Club I Monthly Meeting

Roll call at the Hughesville Extension Club meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 5, was answered with choice articles the members had read on a variety of subjects. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. James Wiley with Mrs. John W. Parkhurst and Mrs. David Powell assisting hostesses.

At noon a dinner to which all contributed was served.

The afternoon meeting opened with a devotional by Mrs. John Fowler.

Mrs. Cunningham gave a talk on Civil Defense and Citizenship and Mrs. David Powell talked on Health.

There were 14 members, one guest, Mrs. Ella Brandhorst and four children present.

The meeting closed with repeating the club collect.

The program for next meeting will be a lesson on food by Mrs. Fred Hoos. The place of meeting will be decided later.

School Principals Report Heavy Smoking by Students

By G. K. HODENFIELD
A.P. Education Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Many high school students are habitual smokers, and it's almost even bet that the recent government report linking cigarettes and lung cancer won't discourage the habit.

That is the opinion of high school principals attending a national convention in Chicago, given in response to an Associated Press questionnaire.

Almost two-thirds of the principals surveyed said 20-60 per cent of their students smoke regularly. More than one-quarter place the figure at 40 per cent or more.

The principals were asked: "From your observations, do you believe the government report has tended to discourage student smoking?"

Fifty-six per cent said "yes," 44 per cent said "no."

Virtually all the principals reported their schools regularly provide classroom instruction about the dangers of smoking.

The rest said such instruction has been added since the surgeon general's report last month singled out smoking as a serious health hazard.

The principals reported that state laws which prohibit teenagers from purchasing or using cigarettes are "usually not enforced" and "completely ineffective."

Many local governments limit their legal efforts to barring smoking on school buses or within several hundred yards of the school buildings.

they have taken action into their own hands.

At Sibley High School in West St. Paul, Minn., students caught smoking on the school grounds are suspended on the first offense and expelled for the second.

Estimates of the percentage of students who smoke ranged from "none," at Duchesne (Utah) High to 60 per cent at Milford, Mich., and Hamden, Conn.

Over-all, 38 per cent of the principals reported that up to 39 per cent of their students smoke habitually. Twenty per cent said 20-29 per cent, 14 per cent said 30-39 per cent, 12 said 40-49 per cent, and 16 per cent said 50-60 per cent.

Several principals reported efforts by students to discourage their classmates from smoking.

Leslie D. Wells, principal at West Anchorage, Alaska, High said, "A new honor plan no-smoking campaign this year tended to discourage the habit and show our younger students that the school family does not believe people of high school age should smoke. Speaking from experience, it is working as well or better than a get-tough policy."

in a car with Cecil Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hudson of near Florence and whose car was driven by Charles Ward, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward, 610 Madison.

During the questioning of the boys it was learned David Gerke, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gerke, Clifton City, and Bert Carr, 14, brother of Michael, were riding in the Hudson car.

Piers for a time insisted he changed cars at the parking lot, but later indicated he didn't remember.

The youths told Trooper Joos, James Buckley, assistant prosecuting attorney and Harold Junge, that two of their companions had purchased some beer from a package liquor store and a tavern, which they consumed before the accident.

At the scene of the accident Piers told Trooper Joos that the two cars had passed each other several times between Sedalia and Smithton, and after they turned on highway 135, "Mike speeded up and passed the other car."

Wingfield's car apparently went out of control and the left wheels went off the blacktop highway into the ditch and followed it down the highway. A short distance from the culvert, the car came back onto the highway again and then swerved back into the ditch and crashed into the culvert. From the point where the car first left the highway to the culvert was 92-paces or approximately 276 feet. The car was apparently traveling at a high rate of speed. It bounced off the culvert to the left striking the south bank of the ravine which ran through the culvert bridge, and then bounced approximately 14 feet over the water below and landed against the north bank on its top.

Young Piers said the boys made every effort to try and rescue Wingfield but when he went under the water the second time they were unable to find him. "When we couldn't find Mike, we all got into the Hudson car and drove back to a farm house where Charles and Hudson went in and notified the Highway Patrol. We then left for Sedalia. I wanted to stay but the others were afraid. I asked them to drive me to my sister's home."

Piers was asked if the two drivers were "drag" racing and he said they were not.

Ward first denied driving the Hudson car, because he did not have a driver's license. Later under questioning he admitted he was driving the car for young Hudson.

Ward told a similar story as that of Piers with the exception Wingfield came up three times and efforts to save him were futile when they were unable to locate his body in the murky water.

All of the boys in both cars disappeared from the scene after they had made the report to the State Patrol, with the exception of Piers who returned. None of the boys who were with Wingfield were in need of medical treatment although they received slight bruises and some abrasions.

Mrs. Carr reported her youngest son and the Nelson boy who went to the Carr home with the two Carr brothers said they had fallen in a creek and the first knowledge she had there had been an accident was when she was called and asked to take the boys to the police station for questioning by Trooper Joos.

It was not definitely known if anyone was in the car or had escaped until after Piers arrived on the scene. He told Trooper Joos he was almost sure the Wingfield boy was there. Joos then called for the Bacon's wrecker to come to the scene.

Oliver Cox, who operated the wrecker, hurriedly pulled the car back on its wheels and then up from the water, but the boy was not in the car. The Pettis County fire department was called and Assistant Chief Ernest Carver and Fireman Sherman Howard went to the scene and with long hooks began searching the four-foot deep water and finally caught the boy's clothing and pulled him out on the bank. It was about 5 o'clock when the body was recovered.

The body was removed to the Ewing Funeral Home. Two ambulances from Ewing's were dispatched to the scene when word was received there might be injured or a fatality.

The automobile was towed to Sedalia to the Bacon Service Station.

Michael Doyle Wingfield was born at Sweet Springs on July 1, 1947, son of William Ansel and Willa Jean Wingfield.

He attended Smith-Cotton high school but in recent months had been working at the Clark Service Station, Broadway and Kentucky.

Surviving him are his mother, of the home, his father who resides in Denver, Colo., and an aunt, Mrs. B. J. Shull of near Grandview, Mo.

Feb. 18 and 25, play will resume at 8 p. m. at Bothwell Hotel. Registration each night is at 7:30.

Accidents

A Sedalia man and his wife were admitted to Bothwell Hospital following a two-car collision at the rain slickened intersection of Broadway and Quincy at 9:07 a. m. Wednesday.

In collision, police reported, were a 1963 Chevrolet convertible, being driven east on Broadway by William Lee Burkett Holloway, 22, 903 South Moniteau, who is on leave from the U.S. Navy, and a 1962 Rambler driven south on Quincy by Everett Baugher, 57, 812 West Seventh.

Baugher and his wife, Cecilia, 51, were taken to Bothwell Hospital in a Ewing ambulance where they were given emergency treatment by Dr. A. L. Lowe.

Hospital reports indicated Baugher suffered a possible head injury, complained of a pain in the right shoulder and was responding slowly. Mrs. Baugher complained of pains in the chest and right shoulder and was being X-rayed for possible chest injuries. The hospital had no report of their condition available at mid-day.

Holloway, driver of the other car, was apparently uninjured in the mishap.

In a written statement to police, Holloway said he did not see the southbound Baugher car until he was nearly upon it and was unable to stop in time because of the slick pavement.

No injuries were received in a hit-and-run accident in the 400 block on South Osage about 4:05 p. m. Tuesday.

Involved, besides the unidentified car, was a 1955 Buick, owned by Mrs. V. E. Fletcher, 1504 East Fifth, and parked on Osage by George Fletcher, same address.

The left rear fender of the Buick was damaged. It was Sedalia's 93rd traffic accident of the year. Police are continuing their investigation.

Circuit Court

Larry E. Brennan, 23, of Sedalia, was sentenced to two years imprisonment and then placed on parole after he pleaded guilty in Circuit Court Tuesday to a charge of second degree burglary.

Brennan was one of three young men charged in a break-in early March 11, 1962, at Greer's DX Service Station and Cafe on North Highway 65. Sedalia police officers, who said they were making a trip out north Highway 65 to clear up a mechanical difficulty in their patrol car, noted a broken window in the establishment as they turned around in the station lot.

Brennan and his brother were arrested outside and the third youth, Roy Earl Kronk, was found inside, officers said. Brennan appeared in court with his attorney, Thomas T. Keating, and withdrew a previous plea of innocent. Judge Frank W. Hayes set the sentence and then accepted a recommendation for parole.

Brennan's brother, William, was also charged in the break-in. William was on leave from the U.S. Marine Corps at the time of his arrest and on April

Bryson Extension In Meeting At Kenneth Botts Home

Bryson Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Botts Feb. 6, with the president, Mrs. Elburn Chaney opening the meeting.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Ross Marshall and roll call was answered by 17 members. There were two visitors and four children present. Pennies for friendship were taken.

Mrs. Charles Williams and Mrs. Chester Sartin gave the lesson on Health and Civil Defense.

Mrs. Botts was in charge of the game.

Mrs. Jay Rice read Mrs. Zimmerman's letter and passed to the members a list of books from the bookmobile.

The next club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Elburn Chaney on March 5.

Filing

(Continued from Page One) for city treasurer rests between Mrs. Rosie Pearl Robb, 1610 East Fourth, and Mrs. Perry L. Strode, 618 South Barrett. Mrs. Robb is seeking the nomination to succeed herself. The Republican candidate is Mrs. Fred G. Rose, 815 West Third.

The two Democrats seeking the nomination for police magistrate or police judge are U. L. Howerton, 1534 South Grand, seeking the nomination to succeed himself, and Lawrence N. Englund, 606 East Seventh, former police officer and night chief of police, who recently retired from the Missouri Pacific as a special agent for the railroad. The Republicans did not file anyone for the office.

In the aldermanic races, James R. Askren, 816 West Third, is the Democratic nominee while Charles H. Bass, 517 North Quincy, is the Republican nominee in the first ward.

The second ward has a three-way contest on the Democratic side with Walter Jesse, 1612 East Fourth, seeking the nomination for re-election to succeed himself. His opponents for the nomination are Bennie Bruce Hatfield, 500 East Walnut, and Albert L. "Andy" Anderson, 606 South Lamine. Guy Brownfield, 317 East Boonville, is the Republican nominee.

A two-way race has developed in the third ward between E. Ilen Lewis, 118 East Tenth, and R. S. "Bob" Wells, 1206 Garfield. Lewis is a former councilman. W. Ray George, 1005 East 15th, is the Republican nominee.

In the fourth ward a three-way contest is underway between Floyd H. Priddy, 3002 Skyline Drive; Murlan Tharp, 2107 West Broadway; and William G. Franken, 1203 South Prospect, on the Democratic side of the ballot. Councilman Otis W. Wiley, 1700 West 16th, is the Republican nominee and seeks re-election to succeed himself.

The primary election will be held on Tuesday, March 10, with voting places in all precincts of the four wards.

2, 1962, the state withdrew its charge against him and he was allowed to return to the service.

Roy Earl Kronk, the third defendant in the case, pleaded guilty June 11, 1963, and like Brennan, was sentenced to two years imprisonment and then paroled.

The divorce petition of Mary Jane Hayes against Frank W. Hayes, Sr., 1818 East Broadway, was dismissed in Circuit Court Tuesday.

Police Reports

Mrs. Abby Henry, 316 West Sixth, reported to police that the antenna on her 1956 Oldsmobile had been broken while the car was parked at that address Monday night.

Police Court

Charles T. Hayworth, 131 East Walnut, charged with careless and imprudent driving and trying to elude police officers, forfeited a $50 bond.

William J. Shaw, 1603 East Seventh, charged with careless and imprudent driving, forfeited a $25 bond.

Ronald A. Swillum, California, Mo., charged with running a red blinker light, forfeited a $5 bond.

L. R. Rothganger, Route 4, charged with running a red blinker light, forfeited a $5 bond.

Rease E. Bullard, 3130 South Ingram, charged with failure to yield the right of way in connection with an accident, pleaded guilty and was fined $15.

James Otis Stivers, 1516 East Fifth, charged with running a red blinker light, forfeited a $5 bond.

Michael Pettis, 1902 South Lamine, charged with parking on the wrong side of the street, forfeited a $2 bond.

New Chamber Board to Take Over March 3

The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet which will be held March 10, at Smith-Cotton auditorium, was discussed at the Chamber of Commerce board meeting held Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 11, in the Chamber board room. The final board meeting of the year will be held on March 3, at which time the old board will complete the business of the year and the new board will take over. Deadline for the ballots for the election of new board members will be Feb. 19, with the counting of the ballots Feb. 20.

The citizenship award will again be given this year at the banquet, it was announced. The meeting was presided over by the president, P. Cecil Owen.

The only activity of the past month was the serving of the lunch at the Soils and Crops Conference at Smith - Cotton cafeteria, by the agriculture division. A report of this was given by the director of that division, Dick Monsees, who said that he had a good turn out of his division and the directors and officers of the Chamber to assist in the serving.

Sam Boyle, executive - manager, called attention to the fact that the DeLong Metal Fabricating industry was coming to Sedalia and stated that he thought that there was another industry or so coming which he could not tell much about at the moment.

Attending the meeting were: P. Cecil Owen, president; Ben Robinson, first vice-president; Sam Boyle, executive-manager; Mrs. Vivian Warren, treasurer; George Ray, Dr. T. J. Norris, William Wright, Jr., Martin G. Goodrich, Dick Monsees, William A. Schien, Lou H. Tempel, Jr., Leon Hall, Mike O'Connor, H. W. Harris, Vernon Bingaman, and Louis Hughes, director.

(Continued from Page One) any value per se in the purchase of this property unless we can secure the remaining property in the block."

Hiatt answered, "Yes, this property is of great value to the school system whether or not we own the rest of the block. It is adjacent to property we already own, and the addition will give us approximately half of the block."

Hurt commented, "I still need a valid reason."

Hiatt explained, "We in this area (Smith-Cotton High School) already have a complex of buildings and for the future I believe this complex must grow; therefore, we need to provide for this growth."

Hurt asked, "Do you think it would be feasible to construct school buildings on this property, even though there may still be some houses in between this property and the high school?"

Hiatt answered, "Yes, I do."

Hurt then stated he could not, for the record, go along with the purchase and voted "no."

When the purchase is completed the board will own approximately the west half of the block bounded by Broadway, Massachusetts, Ninth and Lamine. The east half of the block remains under private ownership.

Women's Society Of Smithton Church In Meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Smithton Methodist Church held its February meeting in Fellowship Hall of the church, with Mrs. William J. Lamm, president, presiding.

Mrs. Ben Mahnken played the call to order and accompanied the singing of "Help Somebody Today."

Mrs. Richard Griffin continued the study, "The Changing City Challenges the Church." She was assisted by Mrs. Clarence Eichholz, Mrs. Cloyd Merk, Mrs. Bob McCandless, Mrs. Leonard Semkin and Mrs. Sheldon Smith, who presented a skit on "The Crowded City." Mrs. Merk played the part of a professor, Mrs. Eichholz, a mountaineer; Mrs. McCandless, a share cropper; Mrs. Semkin, a main villager and Mrs. Smith represented a young person seeking an education. All had gone to the city seeking something only to find unfriendliness and discouragement.

Mrs. Lewis Hubbard read the scripture for the study. Mrs. Griffin will conclude the study at the March meeting.

Rev. E. L. Rathert dismissed for the noon lunch.

The Esther Circle with Mrs. George Meyers and Mrs. Harry Henderson as chairmen, were hostesses for the day.

An executive meeting was held following the lunch and plans were made in interest of the society.

Mrs. Lawrence Grupe played for the afternoon meeting and the Rev. Lewis Hubbard announced the plans for the pre-Easter activities for the church.

Mrs. Shelby Kahrs gave a report on World Federation and turned the meeting over to Mrs. Ben Mahnken, Miss Ann Sawford and Mrs. Euel Muschaney who were program leaders.

Mrs. Mahnken gave the introduction to the program the title of which was "Cooperation With Other Denominations." "Working Together in Unity."

Mrs. Muschaney read the Scriptures.

Miss Sawford gave the prayer. Mrs. Grupe played a piano solo, "The Leadeth Me" with variations. "Churches On Foundation" was sung.

Mrs. Mahnken introduced the four ministers residing in the vicinity who formed a panel discussing the unity of the church or the Ecumenical Movement to join the World Church. Rev. Lewis Hubbard, pastor of the church, Rev. Earl Dillon, Rev. R. L. Rathert and Rev. William Ratje, retired ministers. Rev. Hubbard served as moderator and started the discussion by explaining the history of the origin of the different denominations and the unity that has taken place up to the present time that has led to the different beliefs and rituals. He asked for opinions on the present plans to further unite the different denominations.

Rev. Rathert stressed rather a unity of spirit and working together in unity and harmony instead of uniting the different denominations which he opposed.

Rev. Dillon explained the present Ecumenical Movement saying it was eventually coming as had been in the schools, from country schools to the now consolidated districts and also how many different nations meeting under the United Nations were now trying to iron out and understand the problems of each other. He said that so far this is not a complete success but little by little are working out their differences and so it will be when and if the World Church comes into being. Each will have to give and take.

Rev. Ratje told mostly of his experiences in his 40 years in the ministry with other churches and said his most thrilling experience came when he exchanged pulpits with them and most especially colored congregations.

Music discussion with question and answers were held by both the panel and those in attendance.

The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. Dillon.

The decorations of the luncheon tables were in keeping with Valentine Day and with replicas of city apartment buildings and

Christian Women's Fellowship Meeting At First Christian

The Christian Women's Fellowship meeting was held at the First Christian Church Tuesday at which time Mrs. F. D. Allee, service chairman, presented to Mrs. John F. Staubli, president, a plaque given the CWF group by Whiteman Air Force Base, for the services rendered by that group at the Base. This work included mending and sewing, as well as making pads for the hospitals.

Mrs. M. O. Stevens at the piano furnished the music for the opening of the meeting.

Mrs. Louis Harris was in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Jack Herndon sang a solo, "No Man Is An Island."

Alvin Cole from the Welfare Office presented an interesting talk on "Your Welfare," stating that: "It is not our welfare alone, but also our welfare program." He brought out that the welfare program does not only mean giving to the needy, but they are trying to rehabilitate people to help themselves and to be less dependent on welfare.

The luncheon was served by Group 5.

New Styles And Material In Spring Fashion Show

As eagerly as they await the spring flowers at this time of year the women's thoughts turn to new spring clothes, that, whether the styles and materials are any different from last year or not, the freshness and beauty forecast the season of delight.

But this year there are new styles and materials as the models from a group of leading women's shops proved as they displayed what is new for spring at the annual Style Show presented Monday night at Heber Hunt School Auditorium by Beta Tau Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

The proceeds from the style show and card party go to the Children's Therapy Center and the first model is Sedalia's favorite, little Darlene McBride, who for the past four years has been at the Therapy Center where she is taking speech, occupational and physical therapy and classroom training. For the past three years Darlene has started off the Style Show for Beta Tau and this year she wore a lace trimmed cotton dress which featured dyed to match gloves.

Suits are very good this year, the first time for several seasons, and they come in many materials and styles. There is the beautiful classic in silk tweed, the two and three piece suits in pure silk, silk and rough linen texture, all wool double knit, and other materials in an assortment of the new colors of the earliest flowers of spring. But there are also, in addition to solid colors, very exciting checks and polka dots.

Dresses are of every kind, the blouson in wool crepe with flatter collar and V neck, the silk sheath with a tiny removable cape collar and the dress and matching sleeveless coat, both completely washable.

For evening wear the timeless, seasonless black dress with its draped bodice rising high in front and low in back, with the coat splashed with giant roses, and the alabaster silk crepe, simply fashioned with long skirt patch pockets—and water repellent with chalk beading. The short formal is still popular, too, although the long skirt is reflecting increasing importance.

There are the new coats for spring of rayon, silk and dacron with cardigan neckline and patch pockets—and water repellent; the 100 per cent wool basket weave, smartly tailored with a lapel collar and pockets and the all weather coat, an Italian import, made of avril, bright and shining designed to be worn sportively belted or straight and free hanging.

Capelets are in vogue, too, and sportswear is of various types, two piece, three pieces and four piece. Then there is the bathing suit, very feminine, in a fabric of cotton and rubber.

Hats for spring are the roller type in gleaming straw, the cloche of rough straw, the picture hat, the tiny whimsie, the bumper brim with a bowler crown, straws with silk or flowered crowns, the brenton sailor and the wide brimmed sailor, hats and accessories that complement every type of costume.

Mrs. Bettie Yates was the narrator for the show and the models were as follows: Flower's, Mrs. William F. Brown, Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, Mrs. William H. Bunn, Mrs. Orin Anderson, Mrs. Robert Mason, Mrs. E. H. McClung, Mrs. J. D. Wilson and Miss Jennifer Sullivan; Chapman's, Candy Taylor, Christy Chapman, Janice Jenkins, Kay Cairer, Sandy Severide, Jane O'Connor, Rae Jones, Bobby Gielow, Beth Chandler and Lavone Fisher; Lockett's, Toni Giger, Ellen Griffin, Kathy Gibson, Janet Shelby, Sherry Shanahan, Sue Uhr, Josephine Dick, Lou Ann Lange, Lucy Lockett and Lynn Lockett.

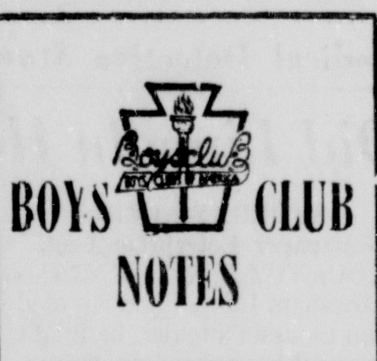

Burton's, Mrs. Bill Watson, Miss Susan York, Mrs. Vernon Stice, Miss Teri Wilson, Miss Alice York, Miss Sara Broucher, Vickie Vaughn, and Mrs. Paul Joquel; Jiedel Vogue, Miss Janet Hamilton, Mrs. Charles Bunde, Miss Bonnie Wissman, Miss Jancie Walker, Mrs. Ray Young, Miss Toni Siragusa and Mrs. Charles Odell; Connor-Wagoner, Cammie Rose, Katy Schrader, Barbara Schrader, Diane DeWitt, Linda Gray, Christina Rose, Barbara Freund, Paullette Lewis and Naomia Jackson.

New members are: David Green, Vic Meisner, Sam Meisner, Aaron Keane, Don Smith, Sam Lehman and John Vandecamp.

In the weight lifting division Vic Meisner, last year's champion in the Junior Division, has returned to practice and had a lift of 100 pounds. His record for last year was 110 which he hopes to break this season.

Gen. McKenzie in the Intermediate Division has reached 175 pounds in a two hand over the head snatch. However, as he is leaving for Dallas, Texas, to enroll in college, this will be his best lift of the year here.

Louis Fosburgh, who also rated high in the Junior Division last year is now in the Intermediate novice division and has started with 100 pound lift. These are excellent marks and a newcomer John Vandecamp is taking preliminary instruction under the direction of Gordon Strain weight lifting instructor. Ronnie Miller, who suffered a shoulder injury in a football game in 1962, has a record of 100 pounds over the head one hand snatch.

Due to the fact that 18 boys will be making the trip to St. Louis Saturday there will be no basketball games in the scheduled league and the club will not open until 10 a. m. Interest has been keen in the league to date and some fine players are being developed. At the conclusion of league play two all star teams will be selected in each division and will play each other. Also they will probably play some out of town games before the season officially closes.

STEELMAKERS ARE NEIGHBORS—More than 73 million Americans are neighbors of the iron and steel industry, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute. The population in the actual steelmaking counties indicated on this map equals about 44 per cent of the total U.S. population in 1962. This does not include "neighbors" in adjacent counties nor millions of other Americans who live near mines, quarries or other steel company-owned facilities.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of Sedalia Boys Club it was decided to open the club five days per week, four hours per day except Tuesday. The club will, under the tentative schedule, open at 5 o'clock and remain open until 9 p. m. A full time director will be on hand during the open periods. The opening date has not been definitely set, pending the availability of the hall.

There is always something to do at the club. Although the greater part of the program is conducted in teams, classes and organized groups, there are many regular activities for individual boys. At a Boys Club, youngsters find companionship and friends, safe from the physical and moral dangers of the streets.

The new hours program will, in effect, satisfy the desire of boys to have a place of their own where they can belong to a group of youngsters their own age. It will attract and serve a larger number of boys because its facilities are especially designed for their use and are always available.

Membership fees and other costs are always low. The poorest boy in any community can afford to belong. Boys who first show little interest in joining a club are often encouraged to "give it a try" because they can do so by paying very modest dues, only a few cents a month.

Lincoln for US, Today

Abraham Lincoln still lives. Almost a century after his death, his memory is familiar and comfortable as the penny which bears his likeness.

Lincoln is a car, a school, a monument, a city, a bank. His biographers are legion. Lincolniana fills our libraries. Politicians routinely quote him in speeches. Almost every schoolchild, at one time or another, memorizes the Gettysburg Address.

Abraham Lincoln has counseled us for 100 years, yet we have too seldom listened. He has shown us the road to brotherhood, yet we have too often set our faces against it.

For too many of us, Lincoln has been an abstraction, a school holiday, a head carved in the rocks of the Dakotas.

But last November all America touched Lincoln and we really knew him for perhaps the first time. Abraham Lincoln can no longer be merely a figure in history.

For the fourth time in a century, our country's faith in reason and the basic humanity of man was cruelly shaken by the bullet which took the life of a president.

We were bewildered, saddened, angered. Later, numbly, we thought back to Lincoln and to the legacy that lives in his words. With John Kennedy's assassination, those words were more clearly understood.

Abraham Lincoln's eloquent wisdom has been carefully and reverently passed to us. It still makes our minds soar and our heartbeats quicken, but unless it makes our hands move, it is empty sound upon the air.

Can we not help but hope that the sobering events of the past year have given Lincoln's words a new vigor?

We have touched Lincoln, and in turn, have been touched by him. Remembering this, perhaps we can make his memory more meaningful, now and in the future, by sharing and working toward his cherished hope that "by the best cultivation of the physical world beneath and around us, and by the best intellectual and moral world within us, we shall secure an individual, social and political prosperity and happiness whose courage shall be onward and upward and which, while the earth endures, shall not pass away."

Faith for Our Time

And Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the spirit into the wilderness, being forty days tempted of the devil. And in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered. And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread. And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

Luke 4:1-4

The word of God tends to make large-minded, noble-minded men.

On this earth all is temptation . . . Our life is a continual combat, but one in which Jesus Christ fights for us.

U. S. Can Prepare to Meet Red Challenge In Africa

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — American troubles in Africa are certain to increase in late 1964 and in 1965 when sizable numbers of the 5,000 African students now being educated in Soviet Russia and Eastern Europe begin returning to Africa.

Even if the Soviet Union is successful in lining up only a tenth of that 5,000 as agents in the Castro style, these few can be extremely dangerous at the right time in a fistful of the weak African countries.

Forty Castro - trained agents probably swung the balance in the Zanzibar revolt. Very small numbers of British troops—60 in one case, 100 to 200 in another—put down the revolting troops in Tanganyika and Kenya. These figures indicate what small numbers are required at the right time in the right spot to control the situation or swing it one way or another in many places in confused Africa.

Red China is now offering scholarships to Africans. There are reports that Chou En-lai has made progress in his good will trip through Africa.

There are a number of other cadres in Communist hands. Most of the governments in Africa are weak now. Because of their inexperience in self-government, their shortage of economic resources, their lack of business training and experience, their low level of education, they are likely to remain weak and a prey to small Castro-type revolutionary groups for more than a decade.

In a number of cases the trend is already toward one-party systems. Most of the emerging native governments of Africa are trending toward what they call socialism.

If the Communists consolidate their hold in Zanzibar, they're expected to try, Castro-like, to spread their type of revolution to the continent of Africa. So Africa may already have its Cuba-type training base.

But with all this, say U.S. diplomats, the Communists have real problems in Africa which the United States and the West can exploit if we play our cards right.

There's an open and fierce fight between Mao Tse-tung's Red China and Nikita Khrushchev's Soviet Russia for control of communism in Africa. In some cases they may cooperate, but in most areas they're apparently out for each other's blood.

U.S. government experts see Africanism—rather than nationalism, communism or capitalism—as the dominant force now in Africa. On one occasion an avowed Marxist African ruler threw out the Soviet ambassador on the grounds the Russian Communists were interfering in his country's internal affairs.

Though they're still arguing the point, experts are tending to agree that Africanism in Africa means racism. The Africans are also fed up with "colonialism." This means, the experts reason, that the Africans will shy away from being satellites of any power—especially any non-African power.

The Red Chinese are working on this very point. They're accusing the Russians of being "white" and playing on the string African racist feelings. They've attempted to exclude Russians from Afro-Asiatic meetings.

The U.S. experts reason, too, that when Russian - trained agents begin to infiltrate continental Africa, there will be a strong reaction against them.

The U.S. policy will be, they suggest, to be always available to help African governments when we're called on. We'll bend over backward to not even seem to interfere. We'll train as many and educate more Africans than the Russians.

The U.S. government's hope is that when there's trouble, as in Tanganyika and Kenya, the Africans will call in the West, not the East.

Medical Detective Story

Did Lincoln Have Often-Fatal Illness?

By JERRY KLEIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (NEA)—If Abraham Lincoln had not died of an assassin's bullet, he might very well have gone blind or incurred a disease of the respiratory system that could have claimed his life.

According to a report in the current issue of a popular medical journal, the martyred president was the victim of an "uncommon, but not rare" disorder called Marfan's disease. A hereditary ailment not identified until long after Lincoln's time, the typical signs of Marfan's include many traits identified so strongly with the Emancipator that we still call other persons with them "Lincolnesque."

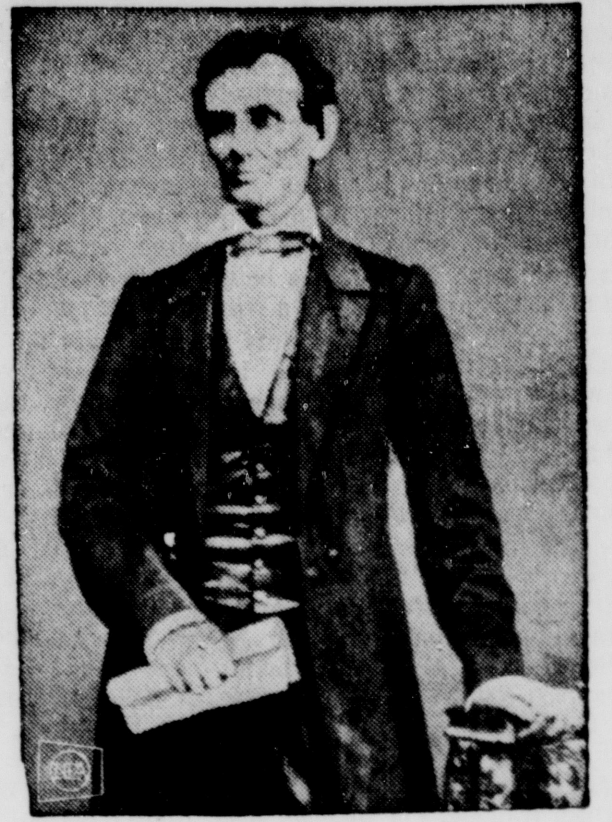

Writing in the Charles Pfizer & Co. journal, "Spectrum," Dr. Abraham M. Gordon of Louisville, Ky., reports on years of research proving that the Civil War president "was probably the most famous victim of Marfan's . . ." As such, if he had not been murdered at 56, Lincoln was prone to serious maladies that might have disabled him or shortened his normal life expectancy.

An internist and faculty member of the University of Louisville, Gordon believes Lincoln inherited the crippling disorder from his mother. He, in turn, passed Marfan's down to his sons and grandson—most of whom died in youth.

The typical signs of this illness read like an eyewitness description of Abraham Lincoln. They include: long limbs, crooked knees, flat feet, a slender build with narrow chest, thin neck and humped shoulders; a sad face with a pointed chin, high cheek bones and large ears, weak eyes, a loose-jointedness with lax tendons and ligaments that produce an awkward, rolling gait; a long head and a high-pitched voice.

Lincoln's feet caused him continual discomfort. He was forever slipping out of his shoes to walk barefoot, even in the White House. A sketch he drew to send to a bootmaker in New York shows that his flat feet would need a size 16½ shoe today, and that his big toes were turned in.

By the age of 47, Lincoln required very strong eyeglasses, and he also was color-blind. Dr. Gordon points to Lincoln's nearsightedness, bouts of double vision and the fact that pictures show his right pupil higher than the left as evidence that he eventually might have suffered the worst eye troubles of Marfan's disease. These are glaucoma, cataracts or retina detachment—ending in blindness.

"The offspring of a happy marriage between a derrick and a windmill" was the way one contemporary described Lincoln's jerky movements. "When he was in a good humor," remarked another observer, "I always expected him to flap his ears like a good-natured elephant."

Dr. Gordon notes that all of Lincoln's sons "seem to have had Marfan's" and three of the four died before reaching adulthood, probably of the heart congestion typical of the disorder. Officially, the cause of little Edward's death at 3½ was unknown; William's death was attributed to pneumonia, "a frequent complication in Marfan's"; and Tad (who also suffered a cleft palate) succumbed to "pleurisy" which also can be traced to the cardiovascular disease that is "the chief cause of death in Marfan's."

Robert, the only one to reach manhood, had the characteristic visual weakness and as a child was teased by other children for his crossed eyes. Grandson Abraham II, "the image" of the president, died at 17 of a heart and lung disorder that produced

"fluid" in the chest, and again characteristic of Marfan's.

Dr. Gordon started studying Marfan's in depth when he happened to see his first patient with the ailment at the same time he was reading a biography of Lincoln. "Something clicked in my mind," says the assistant clinical professor at Louisville's medical school, and he has been investigating the disorder since.

Doing so has taken the physician into Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia to examine offshoots of the Lincoln family tree. He has found some amazingly similar cases among these people. One of Marfan's victims at 14 was a writer of beautiful poetry; a 15-year-old victim has a genius I.Q. and can do college work.

"Unusual qualities of mind and spirit appear in a great many Marfan's people," the magazine reports. They are persons with "high mental ability who have a singular outlook on life." Certainly, the murdered president would be an outstanding example of this.

The Spectrum article says that the strange disease was named in 1896 after B. J. A. Marfan, a French physician who first described the spidery fingers and slack muscles that are typical of it. According to some estimates, there may be 2,500 persons in the United States who also suffer Lincoln's ailment.

Critics Getting Under Johnson's Skin

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has a thin skin and some of his critics are getting under it already. He hit back. He called them "belly-achers," although he didn't identify them.

This evidence that Johnson can be irritated so early in a presidential campaign year will probably just encourage Republicans, who have been criticizing his handling of foreign policy, to do more of the same.

The degree of Johnson's irritation can be glimpsed from a part of a talk he made Tuesday to agents of the Internal Revenue Service.

"When I became (Democratic) majority leader (in the Senate) when President Eisenhower was president, I took the position politics stopped at the water's edge," Johnson said.

"We had but one president and one commander in chief. I would support his policies and give him strength and comfort, and I would not be aligning myself with any enemies of the United States in criticizing him."

That's pretty hard to digest in a country like this where the political football game traditionally has the out-party spending a lot of time criticizing a president and, in a campaign year like this, even more time.

He said critics of an administration in office can be "almost as much of a problem as some of our other enemies."

His talk at least had the effect of raising a pertinent question about himself. If he can get this hot this soon, what's his temperament going to be when the presidential campaign really gets rolling?

In the 1960 presidential campaign year—before he got the Democratic vice presidential nomination on the ticket with John F. Kennedy—Johnson was the critical of Eisenhower's handling of foreign policy.

And he was critical before that during those years of his majority leadership, which he mentioned Tuesday.

If Johnson runs for election this year, as expected, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon once again is the Republican presidential candidate, as he was in 1960, this will be the 1960 campaign in reverse.

Among Republicans Nixon and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, in particular, have been Johnson critics.

Although Goldwater is openly seeking the nomination, Nixon insists he is not a candidate while, at the same time, sounding more and more like one in his trips and speeches. He does say he'd accept a draft.

In that 1960 campaign Nixon, after two terms as Eisenhower's vice president, was in a political box. He had to defend the Eisenhower-Nixon foreign policy while Democrats were free to bang at it.

Johnson did his share of banging, although Kennedy did the most of the talking. Now Johnson will have to defend his policy while Nixon is free to criticize.

In doing it now he sounds, in a way, like Johnson of 1960, which is one of those oddities in American politics which must make a foreigner wonder how Americans are ever able to choose between their politicians.

Recently Nixon said some areas of U.S. foreign policy need a "new direction." He mentioned Latin America, especially Panama, and Southeast Asia.

In 1960 Johnson said "we need a new, vigorous and different foreign policy," and he especially called for a "positive and dynamic" policy for Latin America. He was also critical of American Asian policy.

The relationship between Johnson and Nixon, judging from what they have said about each other, could hardly be called clubby.

Nixon recently called Johnson a "past master of a political shell-game" with "something for everybody—liberal to the liberals, conservative to the conservatives."

In 1960 Johnson called Nixon "dangerous" and "deceptive" and accused him of resorting in the campaign that year "to the kind of language little boys write on fences."

Pearson Specialty: Secret Documents

(Editor's Note—The Washington Merry-Go-Round today is written by Drew Pearson's associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — Having worked as an understudy in the press corps of Washington for quite a few years, I can report that newspapermen are peculiar people. They have eccentricities and prima donna instincts, and this includes my boss, as he will be the first to admit.

Some of these prima donna eccentricities have been behind the recent hassle over who leaked the damning documents regarding star witness Don Reynolds in the Bobby Baker case and why.

The clear and pointed inference by such pillars of American journalism as the New York Times is that the White House leaked these documents to Pearson in order to discredit the No. 1 witness concerning the $542 stereo set given LBJ seven years ago. There has followed a lot of journalistic gnashing of teeth and breast beating about managed news, planted stories and confidential documents.

Now I happen to know where these documents came from, and I should like to make some general observations on the point.

A Kennedy Pet
My first observation is that for three years during the Kennedy administration, the New York Times was the No. 1 news favorite around the White House. Almost every ambassadorial appointment, almost every sub-cabinet change, almost every piece of legislation Kennedy planned was leaked to the New York Times first. Kennedy deliberately and definitely used the Times as a means of launching trial balloons.

So it's only natural that the Times seethes with professional jealousy when it sees another newsmen apparently getting an inside track. This unquestionably was behind Arthur Krock's acid column inferring that publication of the Don Reynolds documents in the Washington Merry-Go-Round was not due to "reportorial enterprise and diligence."

President Johnson went out of his way to have dinner with the moguls of the Times in New York last week by way of appeasement. But it didn't do any good. Twenty-four hours later they kicked him in the teeth with a double-truck front page story accusing him of leaking the Don Reynolds documents.

My second observation is that the Merry-Go-Round for years has specialized in ferreting out the transcripts of closed door hearings and documents which the bureaucrats have tried to suppress.

Founders Day Program By PTA Council

The Sedalia PTA Council held its Annual Founders' Day program with all units participating Thursday evening in the Whittier School gym with Mrs. Oliver Thomas presiding.

Mrs. Thomas opened the meeting by sharing the messages sent to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and President Johnson by Mrs. Clifford Jenkins, national president, on behalf of all PTA members.

A clever reading, "Little Mary's Essay On Husbands" was read by Julie Vaughan.

Inspirational thoughts were given by Mrs. C. E. Van Horn of Mark Twain School.

The sophomore sextet from Smith-Cotton High School sang: "Bless This House." The sextet is composed of Linda Petree, Leslie Turner, Janice Walker, Jennifer Vanderlinden, Janet Gelken and Stephanie Anderson, with Teresa Preuit, accompanist and Mrs. Mary Faulkner, director.

Roll call was taken by Mrs. Kenneth Steele with Whittier School as winner, and that unit was presented with a prize.

It was voted to hold a school of instructions for new officers and chairmen in April.

The Founders' Day chairman from each unit was introduced as follows: Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, Mark Twain; Mrs. Howard Gwinn, Washington; Mrs. Mrs. Glen Cromley, Jack Mrs. James McCall, Jefferson; Mrs. Oliver Thomas, Whittier; Mrs. Theodore Wells, Smith-Cotton; Mrs. William Owen, Heber Hunt and Mrs. Kathryn Rayford, Hubbard.

Mrs. Thomas asked all teachers and principals to stand and a tribute was presented in the form of a poem at which time an apple was presented to the two teachers present.

A play entitled, "Our Objects Now and Then" was presented with the following taking part: Mrs. A. W. Haller, trooper; and Mrs. Robert Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cromley, Jack Deloh, Mrs. Kenneth Miller.

Miss Lillian Newbill, Mrs. Bill Burkholder, Mrs. Ernest Swearingin, Mrs. Jacques Cowherd, Mrs. Guy Snyder, Mrs. Harley Sanford and Mrs. Catherine Ravford.

The past presidents were honored using the theme "Mrs. America." As each president walked on the stage carrying a bouquet of jonquils, accomplishments during her term as president were read, ending with the phrase: "There She Is — Mrs. PTA." Presidents were: Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, Mrs. Nathalia Poynter, Mrs. Howard Gwinn, Mrs. Sam Knapp and Mrs. Geo. Chamberlin.

After all the presidents had been introduced Mrs. Kenneth Keele and Mrs. Harold Ryan sang: "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

All were invited to stay for refreshments served by the committee.

United Church Women In Meet Here Friday

The United Church Women of Sedalia held a meeting Friday morning at the Broadway Presbyterian Church. The host church served coffee and home-made coffee cake. The invocation was given by Mrs. Roy Strubling of the First Methodist Church. Devotions were led by Mrs. Melvin Lane, from the host church and hymn singing was led by Mrs. M. O. Stevens of the First Christian Church.

Churches in attendance by representation were: Broadway Presbyterian, Epworth Methodist, Immanuel United Church of Christ, Federated, First Methodist, 1st Christian, Quinn Chapel A.M.E., Taylor Chapel Methodist, and Wesley Methodist.

During the business, conducted by Mrs. T. E. Gasperson, president, the group voted to send Mrs. Gasperson to the State Assembly of United Church Women, being held in Springfield April 22-24.

Mrs. Ernest Liebel, World Day of Prayer Chairman, announced the particulars concerning this special day of prayer which will be held Feb. 14, 1:45 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. Participants in the service are to meet in the chapel of First Methodist at 1:30 p.m. on that day. A nursery will be provided for small children.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Wed., Feb. 12, 1964 9

Mrs. Gasperson reported that she took the collection of jewelry, gathered by the church women, to the prison for women at Tipton. She estimated that there was at least $200 worth in the collection and she thanked the women for giving it. There also were material and buttons for sewing sent along with the jewelry.

Yearbooks were given out which outline the year's program for the local council of United Church Women. The meeting then closed with a dedicated praying of The Lord's Prayer.

Career Scorers

Three Big Eight Players Can Join a Select Circle

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ray Carey of Missouri, Jim Davis of Colorado and Willie Murrell of Kansas State can join the select circle of 1,000-point career scorers in Big Eight basketball by the end of this season.

The 6-foot-8 Davis also is on the verge of making the more exclusive group of players with 800 rebounds. Davis has 786 with seven games left. He seems certain to surpass the 813 total by Clyde Lovellette of Kansas '52 and has a chance to edge past Wilt Chamberlain, Kansas '58, who grabbed 877.

Bill Bridges, Kansas '61, is the Big Eight career leader with 1,081 rebounds. He is the only man out of reach for Davis.

Davis is the league's No. 3 scorer with a 17.7 average for 18 games and appears certain to reach the 1,000-point career mark. He needs only 35 more points.

Carey has 876 and the 6-foot-7 Missouri senior needs a 17.7 average through his last seven games. He is the league's No. 2 scorer with an 18.5 average and should make it.

Murrell is the league's top scorer with a 21.3 average this season but he'll need a 21.7 pace through the final seven games to make 1,000. Murrell is a junior college transfer and is playing just two seasons.

The Big Eight's circle of 1,000-point scorers has 22 members. The first was Charlie Black, Kansas '47. Lovelette's 1,979 total heads the list, but Chamberlain's 29.8 average for two seasons better Lovellette's 24.7. Bob Boozer, Kansas State '59, is next with 21.9 for three seasons, followed by Wayne Hightower, Kansas '61, 21.3 for two years.

Should Murrell reach 1,000 points by the end of regular season play, he'll be only the fifth man with a 20-point career average.

Missouri's Bob Price is fourth in all-games scoring with 17.1, George Unseld of Kansas fifth at 16.7 and Larry Hawk of Oklahoma State sixth with 16.5. Price will fall short of the 1,000 mark because of a nine-game sophomore season, but Unseld and Hawk appear certain to join the list next season. Unseld already has 750 and Hawk 626.

Cards Take Smithton's Cage Team

In a hard-fought non-conference contest at Smithton Tuesday night the Smithton Tigers went down in defeat to the Tipton Cardinals, 71-60.

The Cardinals were out in front in the first quarter, and they continued to pile on the points in the second period. At half-time Smithton trailed by ten points.

Opening the second half, both teams matched points in the third period. Tipton managed to get one point on the Tigers in the last stanza to give them their 11-point edge.

Mark Teter led the losing Smithton aggregation with 18 points, followed by Rodewald with 16 and Cook with 14. Arnold pushed 28 powerful points through the loop for the Cardinals to take scoring honors for his team and for the game.

In the B contest, the Cardinals trounced the Tigers, 29-47, led by Donley with 14 points. High point honors for Smithton were shared by Zimmerschied and Thomas with nine each.

Smithton will take on Cole Camp in a PBCAA Conference battle Friday night at Cole Camp.

Score by quarters: Smithton 12 14 14 14—60; Tipton 20 22 14 15—71. Individual scoring: Smithton—Mark Teter, 18; Rodewald, 16; Cook, 14; Smith, 2; Hyatt, 6; Turner, 4; Tipton—Arnold, 28; Klass, 3; Lutz, 8; Huhmann, 3; Oswald, 14; Liebert, 10; York, 3.

Players Bar Antitrust Exemptions

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts said today the National Football League Players Association opposes blanket exemption of pro football teams from provisions of the antitrust laws.

"We agree that the owners should get some relief—but not at the expense of jeopardizing our position," said Braase, newly elected president of the players' organization.

Braase is scheduled to testify next week before the Senate antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee in Washington, D.C., when hearings resume on the sports bill introduced by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Others expected to testify include the commissioners of the National, American and United Football leagues—Pete Rozelle, Joe Foss and George Gaffney.

In previous testimony, there has been unanimous endorsement of the bill which would give football, basketball and hockey the same antitrust exemptions now granted to baseball.

Jan Struther, author of "Mrs. Miniver," was the pen name of Joyce Anstruther Maxtone Graham.

Jim Gatewood of Oklahoma and Jim King of OSU have a chance and King has a good chance to make 800 rebounds.

Davis is high among the leaders in career rebounding average with his 11.2 mark. Chamberlain's average of 18.3 a game is best. Bridges averaged 13.9 for his career. Hightower 10.8 and Lovellette 10.2.

Warsaw Wins Over Versailles

The Versailles Tigers, embarrassed and keyed up over a poor 4-12 season record, gave the Warsaw Wildcats a good showing in a non-conference game at Versailles Tuesday night, but the over-all pattern wasn't changed. Versailles still lost, 76-66.

The Tigers, in the opening stanza of the game, gave spectators the impression they were there to win. Versailles paced Warsaw 20-14 in that quarter, and battled them to a 16-16 tie in the second period to still hold the lead at intermission—36-30.

But it was Warsaw's Ken Shephardson, who hadn't scored a point in the first half, that really disillusioned the Tigers. Shephardson, making it look as though he had been a casual observer in the first half, came back in the second to score a whopping 26 points—incidentally upsetting every hope the Tigers had had up to that point.

In the third period alone the Wildcats dropped in 27 points, holding Versailles to 16. In the final stanza, Warsaw dropped in 19, while Versailles only managed to hit for 14. Shephardson provided the key which opened the door for an easy Warsaw victory.

Another Shephardson, Tom, followed the first with 18 points for Warsaw, and high man for Versailles was Dale Tankersley who tried to carry the load for his team and almost succeeded with his 20 points. He was followed by Garry Hutchison with ten.

The B game, however, saw Warsaw lose by four points, 55-51, with Versailles' Lee Williams scoring a tremendous 33 points to pace his team to victory. High for Warsaw was Brandt with 16.

Versailles next meets Iberia, on Friday night, in a game at Versailles.

Score by quarters: Warsaw 14 16 27 19—76; Versailles 20 16 14—66. Individual scoring: Warsaw—Ken Shephardson, 26; Hirsch, 8; Pickard, 5; Jackson, 13; Parsons, 1; Hobbs, 3; Johnson, 2; T. Shephardson, 18; Versailles—Dale Tankersley, 20; Dean Atkins, 8; Ray Morrison, 8; Garry Hutchison, 10; Ray Forrest, 8; Larry Atkins, 4; Jim Richardson, 4; Ricky Lujin, 2; Stafford, 4.

Jim Beatty In Olympic Year Debut

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jim Beatty, the veteran American distance star whose times are more impressive than his victories, makes his Olympic year debut Saturday in the Golden Gate Invitational indoor track and field meet.

It's the start of a year which Beatty hopes can atone for his 1960 Olympic failure and his disappointing 1963 season.

The dark-haired, 5-foot-6 runner holds three U.S. citizens' outdoor distance records, is still listed as the world record holder at two miles, owns history's best indoor two-mile and the indoor mile topser of 3:58.6.

Yet in the 1960 Olympic 5,000 meters, he ran nearly a minute slower than his American record and didn't even make the finals. In the past three National AAU mile championships, Beatty won only in 1962—the year Dwyro Burleson didn't compete.

DRIBBLEPUSS—From the pained expression on the face of Cincinnati Royals' Jerry Lucas, left, you would think 76er Hal Greer, 15, had stepped on his foot as he dribbled past him in Philadelphia.

Berra Speaks Out

Yank Manager To Retain Winning Ways This Year

By YOGI BERRA
New York Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Well this is a new experience for me. Not just managing the New York Yankees, but writing a story like this before we've even assembled our squad at Fort Lauderdale for spring training. But I'm game if you are.

In the first place, let me reassure Yankee fans that I intend to continue the winning ways of Ralph Houk who managed three winners in three seasons.

We think we're knee deep in starting pitchers with Whitey Ford, Jim Bouton, Al Downing, Ralph Terry, Stan Williams and possibly Bill Stafford. We have good young relief pitchers in Hal Reniff, Steve Hamilton and maybe Tom Metcalf.

Joe Pepitone, a question a year ago as replacement for Bill Skowron, made it big as a regular. Joe is only 23 and has a great future before him.

The rest of the infield—Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and Cleto Boyer, plus Phil Linz as the chief utility man—gives us the best inner strength in baseball, I think.

With a healthier Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, plus Tom Tresh and Hector Lopez, our outfield should have power and defense. Mantle and Maris missed 169 games between them last year.

With the league's most valuable player in Elston Howard, I think our catching should be as good as it was last year. John Blanchard should move up to make a first rate replacement as catcher, outfielder or pinch hitter.

We could use an extra catcher to replace a fellow by the name of Berra, who's "hung up." It could be young bonus rookie Jake Gibbs, the former All-America football player. Last year was Jake's first as a catcher, but I think he's going to make it sooner or later. He's our type of player.

Among our prospects in addition to Gibbs, we have Elvio Jimenez, a right-hand hitting outfielder who had a big minor league season in 1963. He's the younger brother of Kansas City's Manny Jimenez. And then we have second baseman Pedro Gonzalez, a good hitter, and we think he might help us in the outfield, too.

Springfield was in contention at Carbondale for only the first 10 minutes, during which Holmes Teegarden scored 15 of the Bears' 24 points. Southern Illinois widened a 26-24 lead to 49-32 by halftime.

Southern Baptists got a 13-point jump before Cape Girardeau scored at Walnut Ridge, and the Baptists just kept going. The halftime score was 50-28.

Washington of St. Louis will play at Eastern Illinois in the only game for Missouri Colleges tonight.

Temperature, light and excitement prompt the chameleon to change its hue, not background coloring.

Greyhounds Battle To Even Record

The Sweet Springs Greyhounds, still battling to even their season record, trounced Hughesville's Wildcats 75-55 in a non-conference contest at Sweet Springs Tuesday night. The 'Hounds hold a 11-14 mark for the season.

Sweet Springs, though the scores weren't phenomenal, nevertheless left no doubt as to the outcome of the game—jumping to a two-point edge in the first quarter and working on to pace the Wildcats 29-26 at intermission.

The 'Hounds suffered a temporary set-back in the third quarter when the Wildcats came up with a stronger effort and out-pointed the eventual winners 18-17 in that period. But it only caused Sweet Springs to put on a final scoring surge which put them well ahead—and to stay.

Sweet Springs' Charles Dierking took game scoring honors with his pace-setting 22 points, followed by Bob Blackburn who was next on the scoring column with 12. Hughesville's Brown gave Dierking some close competition for the top scoring mark, dumping in 21 points for the Wildcats. Kraft followed him with 15.

The Greyhounds made it a perfect evening by capturing the B game as well, 62-38, with Dewey Sims doing the honors with 19 points while Wiley was high for Hughesville with 14.

The Greyhounds will travel to Houston this coming Thursday to continue their bid for an even season record.

Score by quarters: Sweet Springs 13 16 17 29—75; Hughesville 11 15 18 11—55. Individual scoring: Sweet Springs—Jerry Treece, 11; Dave Jacobs, 3; Charles Dierking, 22; Jim Thomas, 10; Bob Blackburn, 12; Wayne Lindaman, 2; Steve Webster, 4; Bob Brown, 5; Hughesville—Brown, 21; Wall, 4; Vardeman, 8; Vannoy, 5; Kraft, 15; Wiley, 2.

Bluejays Win Over Wentworth

St. Paul's Bluejays of Concordia whipped Wentworth Military Academy 60-52 in a non-conference tilt at Concordia Tuesday night, an effort good for their tenth victory to eight losses.

The Bluejays started the game out strongly, leading by eight points over WMA at the end of the first quarter. St. Paul eased up a little in the second quarter, however, and saw the Military Academy take a two-point edge in that period, which didn't do much to ease the 28-22 deficit they faced at intermission.

St. Paul's had its strongest effort in the third quarter, scoring 21 big points, while holding Wentworth down to 14. The Military Academy made a final effort, good for 16 points, in the fourth quarter, but fell far short of the needed points to tie or win the game.

Randy Schields paced St. Paul's with 21 points, and saw his effort matched by Kitchen for the Military Academy. The two opponents tied for scoring honors of the evening. Dennis Rothe followed Schields for Concordia, and Nordeen backed Kitchen's effort with 14.

St. Paul's also beat the military academy in the "B" game, 64-49, with David Roschke leading St. Paul's with 20, while Burns was high for WMA with 13.

Score by quarters: St. Paul's 18 10 21 11—60; Wentworth 10 12 14 16—52. Individual scoring: St. Paul's—Randy Schields, 21; Jim Schwane, 5; Dennis Rothe, 11; Ken Sievers, 5; Allen Brown, 6; Carl Lehnbauer, 2; Richard Steiner, 4; Wentworth—Posey, 4; Kitchen, 21; Kinder, 9; Nordeen, 14; Childers, 2; Onthank, 2.

Baseball Scene

Players Signing 1964 Contracts

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Gentile slumped to 24 homers last year but set a career high in the department by batting 1.000 against the water cooler.

He wound up getting a rise out of Baltimore, and a raise out of Kansas City.

Gentile, acquired by Kansas City from Baltimore in an off-season trade for Norm Siebern, was all smiles Tuesday after signing his 1964 baseball contract for what he termed "the best contract I ever signed—including anything I ever got from the Orioles."

Some of what he got from the Orioles he had to give back. Gentile was fined for not hustling and made only about $300 of a $2,000 bonus he was promised if he managed to belt the ball more often than the water cooler and, in general, hit for a higher average in the department.

It didn't work out that way. Gentile slumped for the second year in a row, hitting only .248 with 24 homers and 72 runs batted in. In 1961 the slugging first baseman had put together his best season in the majors with a .320 average, 46 homers and 141 runs batted in.

Apparently the A's are hoping for a return to the 1961 marks, figuring Gentile and another trade acquisition, Rocky Colavito, can provide Kansas City with a 1-2 power punch and an attractive draw at the gate.

The A's also signed catcher Doc Edwards while the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox were the busiest in the signing market. The Yankees signed pitchers Rollie Sheldon and Bob Meyer, outfielder Elvio Jimenez and catcher Billy Madden. The Red Sox signed pitcher Bill Monbouquette, catcher Bob Tillman, infielder Chuck Schilling and outfielder Tony Conigliaro.

The Chicago White Sox signed catcher Camilo Carreon and pitchers Mike Joyce and Ed Notte. Cleveland induced outfielder Paul Dicken, infielder Vern Fuller and catcher Jerry Burlison to agree to terms. The Los Angeles Angels signed outfielders Ed Kirkpatrick and Dick Simpson.

Panthers Edge Past Windsor

The Knob Noster Panthers, although they trailed in the last half of the contest, edged past Windsor, 46-44, in a non-conference game at Knob Noster on Tuesday night.

Windsor captured a one-point advantage in the first period, but the Panthers bounced back in the second stanza to take the scoring honors. At intermission, Knob Noster held a slim five-point edge.

Windsor took over in the second half, outscoring the Panthers in both quarters. Nevertheless, Knob Noster managed to stay close enough to Windsor to hold on to two points.

Hughes led the way for the Panthers with 15 points. Williams took scoring honors for the game and for Windsor with 17 hits.

In the "B" contest, Windsor downed Knob Noster, 49-31. Tebbenkamp was high for the losing Panthers with seven. Raines took the win for Windsor with nine.

Knob Noster will meet Concordia Public High Friday at Knob Noster.

Score by quarters: Knob Noster 11 15 9 11—46; Windsor 12 9 10 13—44. Individual scoring: Knob Noster—Tennel, 8; Hughes, 15; Wharton, 6; Rhinehart, 8; Rife, 9; Windsor—Buehl, 5; Wheeler, 12; Varner, 8; Harris, 2; Williams, 17.

Income Tax Cut Viewed As Similar to Pay Raise

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—"Just like a pay raise" is the way most employees are likely to greet the federal income tax cut when it shows up next month in their take-home pay.

For most of them look on the take-home amount as their real pay. They tend to ignore the gross figure the employer pays doing right now.

And take-home pay is set to rise, although some juggling will still have to be done by many taxpayers in squaring their final accounts with the U.S. Treasury.

From the gross amount, which the employee doesn't see except as a token figure, the employers withhold sums for various city or state taxes, pension funds, Social Security taxes, insurance, hospitalization, and other employee savings or bond programs.

And when the official withholding rate for federal income taxes drops from 18 per cent to 14 per cent, this money-in-hand is due to rise.

For many the "pay raise" will have some temporary aspects, maybe some illusions.

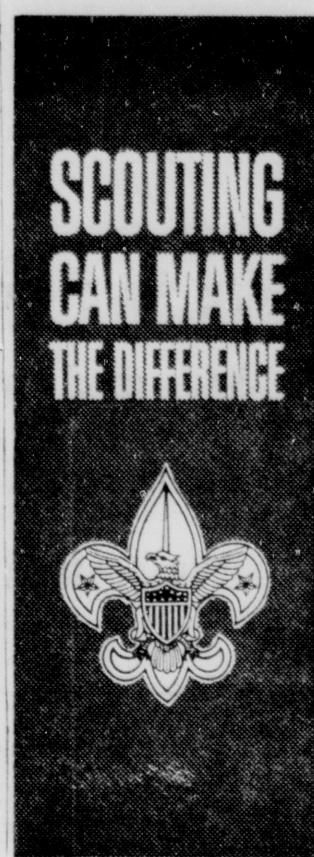

For a worker in the lowest pay brackets, the 14 per cent withholding will still be too high. And at the end of the tax year he will have a refund coming from the tax collector. But he'll have to wait for the money until then—as many are used to.

For those in higher brackets, the 14 per cent withholding will be too small to meet the full amount due. Employees in these brackets, unless they ask the boss to withhold a larger sum, will have to increase the amount payments they make in settling the difference between the total withheld and the estimated tax due. This they declare in April.

And this April the taxpayer will be making out his return on 1963 income along one set of rules and figuring out his 1964 declaration along another set.

With all the help the Internal Revenue Service may plan to clear this up for the taxpayer, this April's tussle with forms and scratch pads may be colorful.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Mrs. Lehmer Leads WSCS Program At Wesley Methodist

Mrs. Irwin Lehmer was the leader of the program at the WSCS meeting at the Wesley Methodist Church on Feb. 6.

The subject: "Our Methodist Heritage" was given in four parts. First, how Methodism came to be; second, marks of a Methodist; third the Wesleys and fourth, Methodism from a space ship.

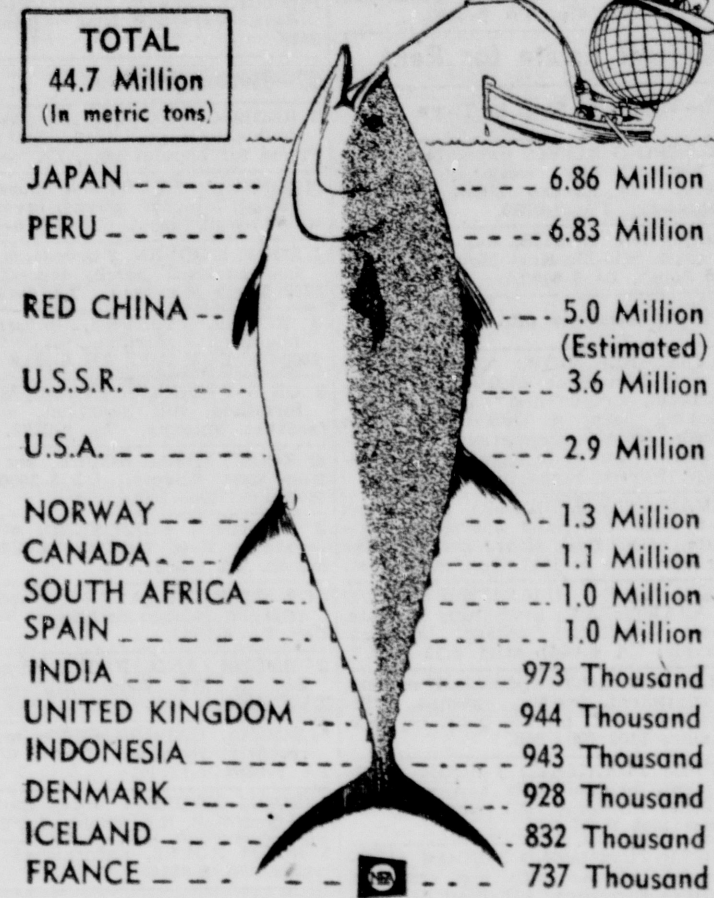

Those taking part were: Mrs. Herman Taylor, Mrs. James Harvey, Mrs. E. W. Bartley, Mrs. Roy Shoemaker and Mrs. Lehmer. The group sang a number of Charles Wesley hymns.

Mrs. T. J. Norris gave the devotional at the opening prayer service. Mrs. R. M. Stonner presided over the general meeting and announced the World Day of Prayer Services to be held at the First Methodist Church Feb. 14, at 1:55 p.m. Also, the 24 hour prayer vigil to be held at Wesley church Feb. 21-22.

Mrs. C. E. Lange gave the closing meditation and Circle 2, of which Mrs. Bob Asbury is chairman, served the luncheon.

Huge mines in the Sudbury district of Ontario have produced more than 16 million tons of nickel-copper ore in a single year.

JAPAN STILL WORLD'S TOP FISHING NATION

FISH STORY—Fishing is a major commercial business throughout the world and particularly in Japan and Peru, whose fishermen caught almost one third of the world's fish catch in 1962. According to statistics compiled by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, the 1962 catch of 44.7 metric tons is an increase of about 7 per cent over the record 41.8 million metric tons caught in 1961. One metric ton equals about 2,204 pounds.

Valentine Party For Prairie Ridge 4-H Club Meeting

Prairie Ridge 4-H Club met Feb. 6 at Range Line Church with a Valentine Party held following the meeting. Games were played and there was a Valentine exchange.

Catherine Reid, the grooming chairman, gave a talk and a demonstration was given by Marcia Aulgur.

The members agreed to five or ten cents per member to the IFYE program.

There were 16 members present at the meeting.

The next meeting will be held at Range Line Church on March 5, at which David and Tommy Robb will be hosts. The program on physical fitness will be given by the health committee.
